About the California Breast Cancer Research Program

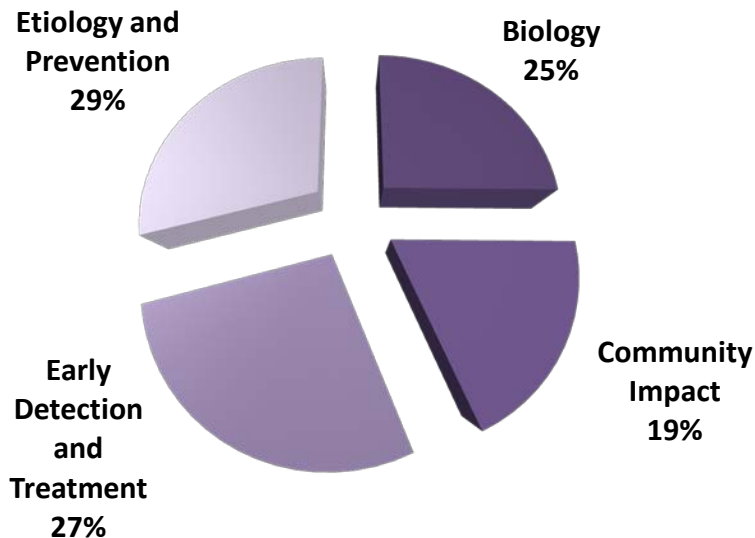

- Founded in 1993
 - breast cancer activists, scientists, clinicians, state legislators, and University of California officials collaborated to win passage in the state legislature of the California Breast Cancer Act.
 - funded by a tax on tobacco products, voluntary state personal income tax form check-off, and individual contributions.
 - tax check-off has drawn over $12 million for breast cancer research.
- Grown to become one of nation's largest state-funded breast cancer research effort
- Ninety-five percent of our revenue goes directly to funding research and education efforts

The mission of the California Breast Cancer Research Program is to prevent and eliminate breast cancer by leading innovation in research, communication, and collaboration in the California scientific and lay communities.

Since 1994, the CBCRP has funded

- Over 1000 grants
- totaling over $284 million
- to more than 800 academic & community researchers
- at over 140 institutions across the state

Community engaged research is increasingly important to funding agencies and universities.

Who is an “Advocate”?

- Represents a Community
 - Perspective beyond personal
- Affiliation/Connection

Review and Funding Decisions

- Scientific review conducted by researchers and advocates recruited from outside of California in NIH- process
- Programmatic review conducted by BCRC Council
- Funding recommendations made by BCRC Council
- Funding recommendation finalized by RGPO Executive Director

IDEA Awards – Scientific Peer Review

- Innovativeness: the extent to which the basic concept and hypotheses are speculative, exploratory, develop new paradigms, and are high risk/high reward.
- Impact: the extent to which the project, if successfully carried out, would make an original and important contribution to the defeat of breast cancer.
- Approach: The extent to which the conceptual framework, design, methods and analyses are developed, well integrated and appropriate to the aims of the project.
- Feasibility: The extent to which the investigators have maximized their chances for success through demonstrated skill, knowledge, expertise, appropriate resources, and collaborations.

Translational Research Awards – Scientific Peer Review

- Translational Potential: The extent to which the project, if successfully carried out, would represent a “translational bridge” to bring the product/intervention/service to bear on the prevention, detection, diagnosis, or treatment of breast cancer, improved quality of life for survivors, and/or reduction in the community and social burden caused by this disease in California. Is the project focused on the use of human subjects?
- Critical Path & Research Barriers: The extent to which the applicant has delineated a research continuum for the project (i.e., background, preliminary work, development, and translational endpoints) and has a strategy for overcoming barriers to achieve the translational endpoints.
- Approach: The extent to which the conceptual framework, design, methods and analyses are developed, well integrated and appropriate to the aims of the project.
- Feasibility: The extent to which the investigator(s) can achieve the stated milestones, practical applications, or endpoints. Do the research team and collaborators have all the necessary expertise, skills, and resources to carry out the project?

IDEA and Translation Research Awards – Programmatic Review

- Responsiveness to Priority
- Responsiveness to Award Types
- Critical path/Translation
- Underfunded
- Focus on the Underserved
